THE FLYING SQUADRON'S TRIP

Chautauqua Advertisers Toured the Southern Portion of County.
Three Stops.

Running with perfect score—and most of the time on high gear—the flying squadron made three stops on a twenty-mile trip and were back in Rushville last night in less than two hours. The Chautauqua advertising brigade consisting of three automobiles, filled with people went last evening on a tour of the southern portion of the county to popularize the Chautauqua.

The itinerary included Milroy, Richland and New Salem. Good crowds were out at every town, and never did one member of the multitude at any place leave, but hung spellbound on the last notes of the songs by the Girls' Glee Club, and then were very willing listeners to the intelligent speech by A. E. Martin, in which he explained the cause of the Chautauqua and its numerous attractive features to be offered this year.

At each and every stop, during the course of his remarks, Mr. Martin would mention the name of Abe Martin and cry out in a stentorian voice that the real and original humorist, whose work is seen in the Indianapolis News every day, would appear on the local program. This particular part of the speech never failed to bring several of hurrahs and a good lively round of applause from the crowd. The name Kin Hubbard, who has made the Abe Martin character famous, seemed to attract the country folks as well as it does the town people. The management evidently made no mistake when they secured his services for this year's Chautauqua.

The first stop was made at Milroy shortly after seven o'clock. There a good crowd soon collected and the Girls' Glee Club, augmented by a few male voices rendered a short musical program, for which they received a hearty applause. Then A. E. Martin from the top of a dry goods box explained the meaning of the interruption of the otherwise quiet and placed atmosphere and gave a short review of the talent to be heard at this year's chautauqua. In the meantime canvassers were going about the town distributing programs and tacking up all sorts of advertising material.

The short run to Richland was soon made, where only a small crowd of people were collected. Their appreciation of the music by the Glee Club seemed to greater than it had been at Milroy, as they were not willing for them to stop. Mr. Martin made a short address covering the ground thoroughly and the caravan moved on to New Salem, arriving there shortly after eight o'clock.

Here a large throng of people collected, considering the lateness of the hour and crowded about the machines while the Girls' Glee Club gave the best concert of the evening. The crowd were loath to have them finish the last song and loudly called for more. But A. E. Martin had a mission to perform and he did it well by pointing out the attractive features to be seen at the Chautauqua next month. When the name of Abe Martin was mentioned, they set up a shout that probably awakened everyone in town as the throng was soon made larger by several additions who had just slipped out of bed to see "what was going on."

The owners of the autos "cut loose" on the return home over the new Salem pike and the squadron arrived in Rushville shortly before nine o'clock. The members of the crowd consisted of the Girls' Glee Club, augmented by two male voices, newspaper reporters, the machine owners, F. E. Wolcott, and A. E. Martin. The automobiles were furnished by Elmer Coldwell, J. T. Arbuckle, and Albert Winship. The itinerary for tonight included the northwestern portion of the county.

PLEASED WITH HIS RECORD

Congressman Barnard's Vote Met With Taft's Approval.

A Washington dispatch to the Indianapolis Star says:

"The President is greatly pleased with the record made by Representatives Crumpacker and Barnard of Indiana during the tariff revision fight. He has been searching through the Congressional Record and knows how every Republican member voted when the bill was before the House. The votes cast by Crumpacker and Barnard are in line with his ideas of tariff revision."

BUMPER CORN CROP EXPECTED

Farmers Say That Yield This Year
Will be Extraordinarily Large.

PROSPECTS VERY FLATTERING

The corn crop this year will likely be one of the largest in the county's history. The acreage planted is large. The ground is filled with a great amount of moisture yet, and a heavy windstorm at this time would cause great damage. The average yield for corn is about fifty bushels to the acre, but this year a yield of seventy bushels will not be surprising, while there are a number of farms where the yield, according to the last reports, will run between eighty and one hundred bushels. Such reports are very flattering.

FORMER TEACHER OF MUSIC IS HERE

Miss Fannie Moffett, Who Taught
Many to "Run the Scale"
Visits Old Friends.

SHE HAS BEEN IN EUROPE

Miss Fannie Moffett, who will be pleasantly remembered by many Rushville people, as she taught music here for a number of years, is in this city for a visit with friends. She is the daughter of "Teacher" Moffett and is quite a talented woman. Miss Moffett has but recently returned from an extended stay abroad where she studied and taught music.

HAD A RABBIT'S FOOT.

New Castle Courier: A most fortunate man has just been found in an eastern hospital. He was operated upon for the removal of a pearl he had swallowed while eating oysters, and when the pearl was examined it was found to be valuable enough to pay for both the operation and the funeral.

OPENS WITH A BLAZE OF GLORY

Fifth Annual Catholic Carnival is the Best of All—Big Crowd Out.

ARE MANY GOOD ATTRACTIONS

Several High Class Amusements on the Grounds—Other Attractive Money Separators.

The fifth annual carnival opened last night in the proverbial blaze of glory. The beautiful grounds were never more tastefully decorated and never before was there such an array of schemes in electric lighting. One streamer after another was stretched from tree to tree and a profusion of large and small American flags made a beautiful background. The Rushville concert band furnished the music and a carnival air reigned supreme. A large crowd was out for the opening night and attracted by the barking of the various criers of ware and amusement places were articially separated from a goodly amount of the filthy lucre.

The carnival is an annual affair given by the young men of the congregation, who enthusiastically rally around the support of the popular pastor, Rev. W. J. Cronin, in every undertaking directly or indirectly connected with the church. With favorable weather the carnival will be the success that it merits, as much time and money has been spent to put everything in tip-top shape.

Carnival Notes

Martin Kelly, the general manager, was one of the busiest men on the grounds.

Posey Denning has charge of the searchlight in front of the vaudeville show. It belongs to Sam Grimes and is the one thrown on President Taft when he visited Rushville.

Charles Applegate is on the ground with his famous crackerjack. He was one of the originators of that toothsome confection.

Martin Winston is running the "Maud" while Tom Ansberry is at his old accustomed place, the baby rack, telling the boys "how they missed the children."

"Buck" Cauley and John Conroy are spellers and ticket men of no mean ability.

Billy Glaska, better known as "Footlight," is doing the "elocution" with the fire eater, "Mephisto."

Earl Robertson, "the man with the big voice" with Clifford Jarvis and George Hogsett is making good in the vaudeville show.

The trapeze performers, LeBard brothers, give one of the best outside attractions the carnival has ever had. They perform twice each night, 7:30 and 10 o'clock.

The dog and pony show is one of the best of its kind ever seen in this city, and the first time the people here have ever had a chance to see a real live performing goat. Go yourself and take the children. It is guaranteed to be the best you have ever seen, or your money back.

Jimmy Mullins has charge of the refreshments and refreshing stand.

Big crowds are expected every night this week.

The ice cream open-air parlors is in charge of a bunch of first cousins—Geraghtys and Cauleys.

The vaudeville show has three changes each night.

Mark Purcell is in charge of the country store, and reports a larger business than on any previous opening night.

Mike McCoy's and Joe Madden's voices can be heard above the band crying "The cane you ring is the cane you get; try your luck folks, try your luck."

The young ladies have a neatly arranged booth, where all kinds of fancy work is displayed and sold at a bargain.

The ice cream went well and nobody seemed to care that the weather was a bit cool.

The advertising committee in charge of John Conroy, did good work, from the size of the crowd on the opening night.

It looked natural to see the Rushville band out again. And they gave a good concert, too.

The Japanese bowling alley is one of the best things the boys ever had, and is doing the business again this Joe Demmer, Will and Tom McCoy, borne, Frank Glaska, Tom McCoy, week. "Hunky" Collier, Harry Os-Will Shannahan, P. O. Tom Geraghty and Berlin Caldwell are all good hustlers that go to make it a success.

Ed McKee is the man with the satchel who gathers in the money each night.

Tony Schrieche is again on the grounds with his big voice as official announcer.

Joe Keating and Carl O'Neil are handing out the candy with John Schrieche, "the candy kid."

John O'Reilly, Earl Osborne, Henry O'Neil are the helpers at the fire-eater, "Mephisto" and are drawing the crowds by their barking.

VEGETABLE MAN IN A NEAR RUNAWAY

Will Cowger Narrowly Averted a Serious Runaway by Catching
Back End of Wagon.

HORSE FRIGHTENED AT AUTO

While Will Cowger was selling vegetables to a woman in North-Sexton street this morning, his horse became frightened at an automobile and started to run. Cowger made a rush for the wagon and succeeded in swinging on to the back end before the garden truck was converted into "suckotash." He succeeded in bringing the frightened animal to a standstill after it had run a square.

PAINTING TOOK THE PRIZE

Premium Winning Oil Portrait Done
by a Local Boy is on Exhibition.

Del Randall, an artist, who is visiting here—his old home place—and who teaches in the St. Paul (Minn.) schools, has a fine oil painting of an old lady in Frank Wilson's display window. It is the picture that took first premium at the State Art society exhibit last fall in Minnesota.

Rushville is going to boom.

GOWNS THAT PASS IN NIGHT

Shelbyville Loses Out—Get Busy,
You Local Young Men's Club.

Complications arising Saturday in negotiations pending between local capitalists and Messrs McNealy and Cox, proprietors of the gown factory, Indianapolis, will probably prevent the location of the gown factory in Shelbyville, says the Shelbyville News. The machinery was ready to be shipped to Shelbyville. Even the drayman had been engaged. Matters may be adjusted satisfactorily but this now seems hardly probable.

MEREDITH SENDS IN HOT TESTIMONIAL

Of Two Hundred or More Newspapers, Rushville Republican is Voted Best of All.

WORD FROM FARAWAY FLORIDA

There are so many little and aggravating complaints constantly creeping and sneaking into a newspaper office such as "you left my name out—and you did it purposely" etc., etc., that it is indeed refreshing to hear a word of commendation occasionally. Here is one that is so good that it is worth repeating, recounting and re-publishing. Coming as it does, from a staunch and loyal Democrat all doubt of prejudice is entirely removed.

Gilbert Meredith, who holds a responsible position with a railroad construction company in Florida, wrote to his wife here this week that he feels mighty proud of the Rushville Daily Republican, and that he has ample reasons for saying so. He says that over four hundred men are located at one point on the construction work and they come from every part of the country. Naturally they receive many local or home papers, possibly two hundred. Bert says that many friendly discussions about the relative standards of the different papers have arisen from time to time, but after all, a majority of them have conceded that the Rushville Republican is the breeziest and newsiest paper that comes into camp—large city publications, of course, excepted. Many declared the paper was good enough for a city of forty or fifty thousand inhabitants.

DR. TURNER WAS AT HIS BEST

The corner stone of the M. E. church at Milroy was laid yesterday. The attendance was not as large as anticipated, but those who were present heard a masterly address by Dr. Aurner of Decatur county. He is one of the old M. E. ministers of this part of the State. The church when completed, will be a magnificent structure.

SLIDE FOR LIFE PROMISED HERE

Show Coming For Fair Wants to Put on Big Attraction in City at Night.

MAY HAVE BAND CONCERTS

Lambrigger's Zoo, Big Animal Show,
Wants to Come Here—May be Secured.

With a free hair-raising open-air attraction and a band concert on the street every evening the week of the Rush county fair will be a gala one for the residents of Rushville. If present plans materialize that will be the order of things the week of Aug. 23d.

Sheriff Will King, secretary of the fair association, was at the North Vernon county fair yesterday and while there secured three star attractions for the local fair. They are all high class shows and have all signed a contract to appear at the Rush county fair.

One of them has a slide for life with their show which they are anxious to use in the city on the evening of the fair week days. An effort will be made to raise the desired amount of money to secure the free attraction here in the evening. The man who figures in the thrilling descent is willing to slide from any height at any hour in the evening from five until ten o'clock.

Secretary King is in receipt of a letter from the manager of Lambrigger's Zoo, one of the largest animal shows on the road. They want to come for the local fair and word was immediately sent them with an offer enclosed. Mr. King is very anxious to secure this attraction as it is said to be the best show making the fairs this year. They carry twenty-three cages of rare specimens of wild animals with which they make their show. Their show tent is forty by forty feet and has a seating capacity of several hundred people. It is said to be a clean and thorough up-to-date feature, which will prove a big drawing card. They have a monster snake in their possession which measures twenty-seven feet in length. Another one of their big attractions is a baby gorilla, which is trained to most any trick. Their slogan is to "Outdo Roosevelt." They want the exclusive animal show privilege which will be granted them should they consent to come. They are showing at Goshen this week.

Some rumor has been heard of a night fair, but the idea has been dispensed with as the traction company will not consent to furnish electricity to light the ground. They would have to go to a very large expense and do not see where they can profit by the enterprise. T. A. Coleman, superintendent of the grounds at the Rush county fair, was at the Hagerstown fair today with a view to securing more shows, stands and every class of attractions for the local fair.

BARELY ESCAPED INJURY

Earl Sanders Was in the Zionsville
Wreck Sunday Morning.

Concerning a young man well known here, the Connersville News says:

Earl Sanders of Lafayette, son of Prof. W. F. L. Sanders and wife, was in the big wreck on the Big Four on Sunday afternoon, but fortunately escaped without a scratch. He was pretty badly shaken up, however. He was compelled to crawl through a car window to make his escape from the ruins.

CHARM TREATMENT CURED A CANCER

Mrs. Joan Krump Recovered From Severe "Rock" Cancer After Long Illness.

USED NO MEDICINES IN CASE

Mrs. Joan Krump of Buck Creek township, near Mt. Comfort, has been suffering from "Rock" cancer for several months, says the Greenfield Reporter. Her arm became very much enlarged, discolored, and solidified. She suffered severely and the only relief she could get was to have her arm tied so that it would be extended upward.

Some of her friends told her about Mrs. James Coleman's treatment of cancer, and we give the story as it was given to us. After having her attention called to Mrs. Coleman, who lives in Sugar Creek township, she got into communication with her, who afterwards examined and treated the disease a few days. Mrs. Coleman's treatment is said to be that of a "charm." She uses no medicine and makes no charges. Several days after Mrs. Coleman had exercised her treatment or charm over the disease, it is said, Mrs. Krump ceased to suffer, her hand became more natural, and she is now able to use her arm much better than before. Rev. John Heim, who visited Mrs. Krump recently, is said to have reported her much improved. Mrs. Krump is well known to many Greenfield people.

TEMPERANCE DAY.

Several Rushville people are planning to be at Bethany Park Thursday when the day's program will be devoted to the State-wide prohibition movement. Several famous speakers will be present and the occasion will be a great temperance rally.

Is a Fine to Kill or Trap Wild Birds

A letter from the Indiana Deputy Game Warden has just been made public by the Indiana Humane Society. The letter follows:

To the Indiana Humane Association and Indiana Audubon Society: The act of the Legislature of 1905, Section 602, page 729, makes it unlawful for any person to kill, trap or possess any wild birds, or to make purchase, or offer the same for sale, or to offer to destroy the nests or eggs of any wild bird and a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 is provided for violations of any part of this law. Deputies of this department are instructed to arrest and prosecute any person found killing wild birds, or trapping them or offering them for sale and especial instructions are given them about persons having red birds, or young mocking birds in their possession. Persons having such birds in captivity can save money and the humiliation of being arraigned in court by immediately turning them loose. We have deputies all over the State, but of course they cannot discover all such violations, and we will be very grateful to members of the Indiana Humane Society and Indiana Audubon Society as well as to any other persons who will call our attention to this class of violations, and upon receipt of such information, immediate action will be taken. Please report violations to E. E. EARLE, Deputy Game Warden, Indianapolis.

The Connersville Courier says: Rather a peculiar accident happened at the home of Dr. Sipe at Orange last Saturday. He has a well which is over 160 feet deep. He also has a deep well pump by which he draws water. He, with a neighbor, was at work repairing the pump when a part of it, weighing about 200 pounds, took a plunge to the bottom of the well.

WORKS SMOOTH SWINDLE GAME

Sheriff King Received Notice to be on Lookout For Jackson, Mich., Grafter.

BOUGHT A LARGE FARM
Then Borrowed Money on Strength of Phony Deed, Which Proved to be Bank Forgery.

A mighty smooth swindle has been successfully worked by a stranger in and about Jackson, Mich., in which he got away with $3000 recently and is now a fugitive from justice, and police all over the country are looking for him. His arrest will mean a reward of $400. Local police have been notified and they in turn wish to notify the public through the papers.

The fellow is about 54 years of age, weighs from 190 to 200 pounds, has steel gray hair, dark complexion, full, round face, squint-eyed, rather stooped shoulders, smooth face, looks like a German and appears to be a respectable and retired farmer.

His operation consist of driving through the country hunting for a farm. He finally is directed to a notary public. There he has an acknowledgement taken to a power of attorney blank, which he says he wants to send to Ohio for signature. The blank bore the proper seal and afterwards a duplicate turned up, and was used on a forged deed.

The farmer of whom he wished to buy drove from his home to Jackson, a distance of fifteen miles, and an abstract was made. Later he negotiated a $3000 loan with which to stock and improve the farm. He exhibited a warranty deed duly executed and acknowledged and the loan was made. The signatures on the deed were forged as well as the notarial seal, which was duplicated and the "respectable, retired German farmer" has disappeared.

* * *

Says the Greensburg News: Fred Boyl and wife were at Rushville last Sunday attending a surprise given on Mrs. John Higgs, on the occasion of her fortieth birthday. Mrs. Boyl and Mrs. Higgs are sisters. Each guest, twenty-two in number, took with them well filled baskets, which helped along the pleasures of the event.

* * *

Mrs. Walter Peters of North Morgan street entertained last evening, honoring her guests, Misses Nelle Huffer and Maude Griffin of Greenfield and Miss Ruth Vanorsdal of Shelbyville. Among the other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Edward Zimmer of New York City, and Arthur Wagner of Shelbyville. Refreshments were served at the Greek candy kitchen.

OH YOU DISAPPOINTMENT

Says the Greensburg News: Chas. Bartine served three years in the war and in recognition of his comrades he admits soldiers free to his circus, which is to be here Thursday. This act on the part of Mr. Bartine is a considerate one and is a compliment to the old boys in blue. The writer has known Charles Bartine for 10, these many years, and this act of kindness is only in keeping with his natural disposition.
